

CHASE FOR A DEBT.

To Collect Bill a Woman Follows a Man 10,000 Miles.

All the way from Honolulu to Cleveland, more than 10,000 miles, Mrs. S. B. Cooper followed the man who owed her a large sum of money, and then, when she found him, discovered she had left in Honolulu the documentary evidence of the debt, says a recent dispatch from Cleveland, Ohio. While waiting for the papers to arrive the man left for New York, but Mrs. Cooper is still after him. In New York she hopes to overhaul him and get the case started in the courts. Mrs. Cooper once lived in New York, but years ago went to Honolulu with her husband, and both are now wealthy. In making investments Mrs. Cooper loaned a large sum of money to a Cleveland man, who forgot to pay her when he left the island. She decided to follow him. From Honolulu she went to San Francisco, then to Salt Lake City, to Denver, to Kansas City, St. Louis and Cincinnati. With her brother, from New York, Mrs. Cooper located the man in an apartment house in this city, but could do nothing without the evidence. She refuses to give the man's name.

HALF DEAD SOLDIER.

Returns All Broken Up to His Home in South Dakota.

Bristol, So. Dak., Feb. 18th, 1901.—(Special.)—Peter Behres says: "When I returned from the war I found that I was in a very critical condition. My system was all run down, and I gradually became worse, until I was half dead with Kidney and Bladder Trouble. My family wanted me to consult a physician, but as I had learned through several of my comrades of the wonderful cures of Dodd's Kidney Pills I determined to give them a trial first."

Mr. Behres, or Capt. Behres as he should be called, because he was captain of the 1st Minnesota Cavalry, and in 1862 was for fourteen months in continual service in warfare with the Indians, is now an honored member of the G. A. R., who has reached the ripe old age of three score years and ten. He continues: "I am now an old soldier, seventy years of age, and enjoying almost perfect health, and all thanks for this is due to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I found after having used the first few boxes that my faith was not misplaced in them, and in a very short while my kidneys were doing the work required of them and the bladder trouble was soon eliminated. It was almost a year before I was myself, but during that time I used Dodd's Kidney Pills faithfully and with the very best results that anyone could wish for. I would not have been without them for a king's ransom. I am now well as any man of my age."

Mitchell's Generosity to Aberdeen.
Mr. Charles W. Mitchell, whose offer to be responsible for the whole of the debt on the Aberdeen university buildings, to the extent of $20,000, has been announced, is a singularly unostentatious man. He spends the fortune made in the great business of Armstrong, Mitchell & Co. in doing good quietly, and in financing artistic and educational experiments, some of which are almost quixotic in their freedom from the commercial element. One excellent institution which he has recently started, and which is being worked under his personal supervision, is the Handicrafts' Company, intended to instruct and assist artistic craftsmen and mechanics. Mr. Mitchell is a well-known artist, whose "Hypatia" was one of the paintings of the year in the Grosvenor Gallery of 1885.

Usefulness of Megaphones.
Megaphones are by no means a "foolish" instrument. They are, in fact, capable of great practical use and will doubtless be so recognized in the near future. On the water, shore or in any open country where there are no obstructions and no local sounds to interfere, one may talk through a megaphone and be distinctly heard for over a mile, while a loud call can be heard through this instrument for at least two miles.

Manufacturing Signal Flags.
One of the busiest industries in England just now is that of the manufacture of signal flags. On Jan. 1 next the mercantile marine will be obliged to adopt the revised system of the international code of flag signaling, and each vessel will need ten new flags. As England and her colonies have nearly 11,000 vessels in this category, a prodigious amount of preliminary work in bunting is made necessary.

Care of the Baby.
To keep the skin clean is to keep it healthy, every mother should therefore see that her baby is given a daily bath in warm water with Ivory Soap. The nursery should also be well aired and cleaned, and all clothing washed with Ivory Soap, well rinsed and dried in the sun. ELIZA R. PARKER.

Comforting.
A medical journal says that man's little toe is disappearing. This is comforting news. There will be that much less for the conductor to tread on in a crowded street car.—Washington Star.

CHRISTENING GIFTS.

How Bachelor Relative Paid a Smart Young Father Back.

The conventional piece of plate with which the baby at its baptism is usually dowered was a few months back bestowed upon the infant son of a Liverpools in the shape of a quart tankard embellished with an inscription to the effect that, as doubtless the recipient would in due course inherit the bibulous propensity of his sire, the accompanying gift would undoubtedly, unlike most christening presents, prove useful. The aforesaid sire, however, took the matter in ill part and there is now a coolness between the parties. It was geniality that prompted the action of a certain gourmet who, on the occasion of his godchild's baptism, presented him with a thin volume, elegantly bound in morocco, containing a number of his favorite recipes, which he had caused to be printed for this special purpose, with the remark that one could not begin too young to study and practice the niceties of the culinary art, says Tit-Bits. As, however, this strange gift was accompanied by a very handsome check, the parents smiled graciously upon the eccentric bon vivant. When you are seeking a sponsor for your child don't select one with a hobby. Such is the opinion, formed from sad experience, of a Devonshire father, who a few years back rashly asked his cousin, an enthusiastic naturalist, just returned from the east, to act in that capacity. In due course his relative arrived, and with him, as a gift for his godchild, a large box containing a carefully selected sample of venomous reptiles! At once a general stampede took place, the father alone screwing up sufficient courage to remain and reproach his cousin, who, after a somewhat stormy scene, left the house with his present. At a conjuring entertainment given for the benefit of his family and friends a Mr. Z— was immensely jocular and witty at the expense of an elderly bachelor relation, from whose hat he produced a heterogeneous assortment of articles. Two years later Mr. Z— asked the same relation to stand godfather to his infant daughter. The relation consented, but what was the fond father's chagrin when he produced, not only the costly gift that was expected of him, but the very hat which two winters back had been, in the hands of the amateur conjurer, a veritable cornucopia, remarking at the same time that, as he really did not know what to give, he thought he had better hand over the wonder-working hat to the father, and let him make his own selection therefrom. And with a chuckle he left the house.

THE NEWEST WOMAN.

The Blacksmith Girl of Kansas Is the Latest Specimen.

Esther Searle of Cawker City, Kas., is the latest specimen of the new woman. During the two months that her brother was absent Miss Searle took his place in the blacksmith shop with her father. Esther was determined that her father should suffer no inconvenience from the absence of her brother. In consequence she took hold of whatever there was to do with a heartiness and vim which astonished everyone. Her prowess at the anvil became the common theme of conversation in the vicinity. The Searle smithy became the rendezvous for those who had heard of the girl blacksmith's fame, and curious people from far and wide drifted into the little city to see the prodigy for themselves. Miss Searle seemed to be unconscious that she was the object of so much attention and continued her duties at anvil or bellows just as if she were doing nothing extraordinary. Various women's clubs in Kansas and other states have taken up the subject, and a very interesting paper was read at one of them by an advanced woman suffragist recently. In the course of her remarks this woman said: "The lesson which Miss Searle has taught us should mean the regeneration of womanhood. We shall never escape from the thralldom which binds us like slaves to the mop, the scrub brush and the dishrag until we put ourselves exactly on the same level as the male. We must take our place at the forge and the carpenter's bench, as we have done at the loom and at the counter. We must sail ships and mount guns, blast rocks and mine metals. The woman of the twentieth century will be a revelation. She will no longer be the timid, shrinking shadow of a lordly and domineering man. She will ask no quarter in fighting the world's battle. She will take only when she can give. She will till the soil and mine the mountains. She will run locomotives and drive electric motors, play football and baseball and do anything and everything to develop that side of her nature which has lain dormant for centuries, thereby compelling her to be the weaker vessel."

Cow Worshipers in Africa.

Dr. A. Donaldson Smith writes: "In Central Africa, among the Katsi, I discovered these people to be cow worshippers and to indulge in certain rites which were supposed to be peculiar to the Hindoo religion. Plastering themselves with cow dung and throwing bits of dried dung at every one and everything they liked seemed to be a matter of much import to them, and occasionally some old man or woman would be quite unmerciful in giving me a too generous dose of the stuff. The origin of this cow worship is presumably the same with the Katsi as with the Hindoos, traceable to the great dependence placed upon the animal for sustenance. The Katsi eat the cow, but all the people turn out when the beast is killed and go through much ceremony."—Pennsylvania Grit.

Gives Royalty Most Statues.

There are only four statues in the United Kingdom erected to the memory of women other than royalties. The first statue of a woman erected in England was that of Sister Dora, the Walsall nurse; the second was that of Mrs. Siddons, the third Flora Macdonald, and the fourth that unveiled at Dunoon a year or two ago in memory of Burns' "Highland Mary."

WILL SEND $2.50 FREE.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. R. C., the Celebrated Chicago Specialist, Will send $2.50 Worth of His New Special Treatment Free to Each of Our Readers.

When an experienced physician offers to give away $240,000 worth of a New Treatment for diseases of the heart, nerves, stomach, or dropsy, it is conclusive evidence that he has great faith in it. And when hundreds of prominent men and women freely testify to his unusual skill and the superiority of his New Special Treatment his liberality is certainly worthy of serious consideration.

That Dr. Miles is one of the world's most successful physicians is proven by hundreds of testimonials from well-known people. One patient cured after failure of eleven Grand Rapids physicians, two after being given up by six and seven Chicago physicians, another after nine of the leading doctors in New York City, Philadelphia and Chicago failed. Thousands of testimonials sent upon request.

The eminent Rev. W. Bell, D. D., of Dayton, Ohio, General Secretary of the Foreign Missions, writes editorially in The Sunday School Union: "We desire to state that from personal acquaintance we know Dr. Miles to be a most skillful specialist, a man who has spared neither labor nor money to keep himself abreast of the great advancement of medical science. The Critic of New York, N. Y., said: 'By all means publish your surprising results.' Prof. J. P. Ross, M. D., President of Rush Medical College, wrote in 1894: 'Dr. Miles has taken two courses of the heart and lungs in diseases of the heart and lungs for Mr. Truman DeVeece, editor Chicago Times-Herald, states: 'Dr. Miles cured me of years of inherited headache and dizziness.' The well-known manufacturer of the famous 'Pillsbury's' flour, Mr. J. H. Proctor, Ill., says: 'I had fruitlessly spent thousands of dollars on physicians until I consulted Dr. Miles. Since then I am well and happy.' Chicago, writes: 'Dr. Miles cured me of dropsy after five leading physicians had given me up.'"

This new system of special treatment is thoroughly scientific and immensely superior to the ordinary methods. As all afflicted readers may have $2.50 worth of treatment, especially prepared for their case, free, with full directions, we would advise them to send for it at once. Address Dr. Franklin Miles, 903 to 207 State St., Dept. L, Chicago. Mention this paper.

"DEALING WITH CRIMES IN CANADA."

(From the Chicago Times-Herald, on Jan. 12th, 1901.)

The citizens of the Dominion of Canada have just cause to be proud of their record as law-abiding people. The annual report of the criminal statistics of the Dominion, which has a population of over 6,000,000, shows that there were only twenty-five indictments for murder in 1899, of which only two were left without final action. Eleven of those indicted were hanged, nine acquitted and three confined as insane.

Canada is a country of vast proportions. Its people are scattered over a wide stretch of territory, making police surveillance particularly difficult and in many districts impossible. Yet a city like New York or Chicago alone furnishes a far greater criminal list every year than the whole vast stretch of territory from Quebec to Vancouver.

The Canadians ascribe their immunity from crime to the promptness with which punishment is meted out to offenders. When a man is caught red-handed in the act of robbing another he is not released on straw bail by some justice of the peace from the slums, to go out and repeat the offense. Sharp and sure justice is meted out to criminals of all kinds, the result being that when the guardians of the public peace succeed in bringing a thug to the bar they are seldom called upon to hunt him a second time.

Furthermore, there are few court delays in Canada when a criminal is brought to book. They have no Dreyer cases over there. There are no methods whereby Canadian criminals can have the proceedings stayed from month to month and from year to year or after being convicted, appeal from one court to another until witnesses die of old age or opportunities for corruption can be found.

Nor does this swift method of treating with wrong-doers in Canada leave the innocent unable to properly defend themselves. They have all the opportunities and privileges that our own laws extend to them. The extent to which the guilty is lacking—that is all.

The above, taken from the editorial column of the Times-Herald, gives some idea of the immunity from crime that exists in Canada, and this is one of the many inducements held out for Americans to settle in the district known as Western Canada. The season of 1901 will see a few new sections of the country opened up for settlement. They are attractive in every respect. It is understood that one of the best Indian Reserves in the famous Valley of the Saskatchewan will be opened up this year, and an invitation is extended to those desiring homes to make inquiries. The price of the land is said to be nominal. Besides these lands, the several railway companies have lands to sell; also the government. For particulars write to the agent of the government, whose advertisement appears elsewhere.

A Question of Partisanship.

Major General O'Grady Haly of London, who went to Canada a few months ago to assume command of the Canadian militia, has come to loggerheads with a portion of the people of the Dominion. The general was asked to lend a military band for a political meeting in Quebec, but declined on the ground that the meeting was of a partisan character. In consequence the press of the party he offended has made a vigorous attack upon him.

30 FEET OF BOWELS

are packed away in your insides and must be kept clean, in order and doing business.

It's a long way, with many turns and pitfalls to catch the refuse and clog the channel if not most carefully cleaned out every day.

When this long canal is blocked, look out for trouble—furred tongue, bad breath, belching of gases, yellow spots, pimples and boils, headaches, spitting up of food after eating—an all-around disgusting nuisance.

Violent calomel purges or griping salts are dangerous to use for cleaning out the bowels.

They force out the obstruction by causing violent spasms of the bowels, but they leave the intestines weak and even less able to keep up regular movements than before, and make a larger dose necessary next time.

Then you have the pill habit, which kills more people than the morphine and whiskey habits combined.

The only safe, gentle but certain bowel cleansers are sweet, fragrant CASCARETS, because they don't force out the fecal matter with violence, but act as a tonic on the whole 30 feet of bowel wall, strengthen the muscles and restore healthy, natural action. Buy and try them! (Look out for imitations and substitutes or you can't get results. Cascarets are never sold in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the long-tailed "C" on the box.) You will find that in an entirely natural way your bowels will be promptly and permanently

"Man is as old as he feels, and Woman as old as she looks."

Dr. Greene's Nervura

Makes Health and Beauty for Women.

Remember! Not Age, but Disease, Weakness and Ill Health Make Women Look Old!

You cannot look your best unless you feel your best—that is, unless you feel well, strong, vigorous, with pure blood, strong and steady nerves.

If you have no appetite, poor digestion, are bilious and constipated, your skin will be dark, sallow, pimply, with unhealthy pallor.

If you are sleepless, nervous, irritable, despondent, with nerves all on edge, feel as if you could fly, and are startled at every sound,—these nervous troubles will certainly line your face with wrinkles like age, make you look haggard, hollow-eyed, take the lustre from your eyes and the elastic spring from your step.

If you suffer from female troubles, the dragging pain, the aching head, the tired limbs, the utter weakness, prostration and misery will turn youth to old age unless cured at once.

Beauty Means Good Health, and Good Health Always Means Beauty for Women.
